Acupuncture Treatment with Cal Millar

Cal Millar is a board certified acupuncturist with seventeen years practicing in the Wood River Valley. She practices with a distinctive style founded upon various ancient and contemporary teachings blended with her own experiences. Her practice of holistic medicine stems from a belief that each person is an individual requiring different levels of personal integration within their own time and space for where they are in their life right now. Treatments are determined for each person through assessment of their physical health, emotional expression and their spiritual element.

Acupuncture Treatment with Kara Maxwell, L.Ac.

Karen is a student of Classical Five Element Acupuncture and has been practicing for __ years. Chinese medicine promotes one’s innate ability to heal, restoring an overall sense of well-being. By treating the uniqueness of each individual, rather than one’s symptoms alone, natural balance is restored, leaving the individual feeling their best physically, mentally and emotionally.
